

Sandeep Patel on Satyajit Ray's 100th birth anniversary says, 'Every director in India thinks of making great films like the legendary late filmmaker'

By - TIMESOFINDIA.COM Vaishali Rathod May 3, 2021, 18:27 IST

Pic Courtesy: Sandeep Patel's Instagram

Sandeep Patel is a known director in Gujarati cinema. His work in 'Love Ni Bhavai' as a director was applauded by D-Town. The director has also worked on multiple projects including a series named 'Do Not Disturb'. As May 2 marked the 100th birth anniversary of the father of Cinema late Satyajit Ray, Sandeep took to his Instagram and shared a post remembering some film great contributions done by the late filmmaker. Satyajit Ray was a legendary cinema maker with over 36 films registered under his name and filmmakers across the globe took the opportunity to pay tribute to the legend on this day.

In an exclusive chat with ETime Sandeep Patel shared his thoughts about the late filmmaker. "Every director in India thinks of making great films like the legendary Satyajit Ray. Filmmakers do intend to adapt through his analysis. Today on his 100th birthday I feel blessed that we are the proud film industry performers who were able to experience such amazing films made by Satyajit Ray," he expressed.

Meanwhile, Sandeep's next project is an untitled romantic comedy which he directed with Malhar Thakar and Aarohi Patel. Meanwhile, Sandeep's next project is an untitled romantic comedy which he directed with Malhar Thakar and Aarohi Patel.

Reference:

<https://m.timesofindia.com/entertainment/gujarati/movies/news/sandeep-patel-on-satyajit-rays-100th-birth-anniversary-says-every-director-in-india-thinks-of-making-great-films-like-the-legendary-late-filmmaker/articleshow/82372069.cms>